1. SCOPE

- 1.1 Legal relationships of the Hohenstein India Pvt. Ltd. (Contractor: “the Contractor”) are defined under the terms of the following contractual terms and conditions for commercial business dealings and if permissible for commercial dealings with non-commercial persons.
- 1.2 The contractual conditions also apply to existing business relationships for further and follow-up orders.
- 1.3 Client’s (“the Client”) differing terms and conditions of business only become a constituent part of the contract if they are recognised by the Contractor expressly and in text form (e.g. email, telefax, sms etc.).

2. ASSIGNMENT

- 2.1 The subject of assignment is any manner of expert opinion, testing, investigation (including procurement of testing apparatus and equipment) research work, auditing, inspection or certification (hereinafter referred to collectively as „expert opinion“), i.e. establishment of facts, presentation of empirical findings, determining causes, assessment and review.
- 2.2 The precise expert opinion topic and purpose of use must be defined in text form at the point of awarding the assignment.
- 2.3 The Client has been made aware that an opinion requested by Client directly from Contractor may not be subject to attorney-client privilege and that Client has been advised to discuss with counsel the appropriate party to request the Expert Opinion from Contractor.

3. FULFILMENT OF THE ASSIGNMENT

- 3.1 The assignment will be executed by the Contractor impartially and to the best of their knowledge and belief, according to the recognised rules of technology on the basis of the best-available knowledge and technology and using existing knowledge and/or knowledge and experience gained during the duration of the assignment.
- 3.2 Any specific success, in particular any outcome desired by the Client may only be guaranteed on the part of the Contractor on the basis of application of objective and impartial expert knowledge by specialists working for the Contractor.
- 3.3 The Contractor shall be entitled to transfer his expert opinion activities to third parties either wholly or in part.
- 3.4 If in order to ensure professional completion of the assignment the involvement of specialists in other disciplines should prove necessary their engagement shall be authorised on behalf of the Client.
- 3.5 In other respects the Contractor shall be entitled to carry out or have carried out necessary and customary investigations and experiments for processing the assignment at the Client’s cost and in the light of his own best judgement. Should it transpire in the course of any investigation that for confirmation of measurement result findings an analysis must be repeated or the analysis procedure must be extended to include a repeat run, this shall not be deemed to be an unforeseen event or a costly investigation in terms of time and expense in relation to the purpose of the expert opinion.
- 3.6 If service changes or enhancements compared to the original assignment become necessary during the execution of the assignment, the Contractor may demand the conclusion of a change agreement in text form before any change or enhancement to individual services, in which any questions of reasonable additional remuneration and deadline changes are to be dealt with.
- 3.7 If a set period is agreed for reimbursement of the expert opinion this may not be regarded as agreement of any firm deal.
- 3.8 The expert opinion to be compiled by the Contractor shall be provided to the Client in writing in single copy indicating the specialist responsible for its composition. Additional copies are invoiced separately. Only the authorized expert opinion is legally binding.
- 3.9 Contractor shall upon the written request of the Client send the final report(s)/result(s) hereunder by email rather than by paper hard copy. The Client agrees that the report(s)/result(s) in electronic version may inadvertently be modified once it is in the Client’s word processing system and that the current email transmission technology may allow for interception of message(s) and report(s)/result(s) by third parties. The Client agrees not to hold contractor responsible for these risks, if they arise. The Client also agrees that the report(s)/result(s) shall be sent by Contractor unencrypted. Transmission of the report(s)/result(s) (or other material(s) requested by the Client) via the internet or other public network shall not be considered to constitute a breach of any confidentiality or other provisions of this Agreement between Contractor and the Client, and Contractor shall in no way be liable for any damages resulting from such a transmission. Additionally, contractor shall not be liable for any damages incurred by the Client for any changes made to the report(s)/result(s) after it has been transmitted.

- 3.10 The Contractor’s expert opinions reflect only those facts established at the point in time of testing on the basis of the specific instructions provided by the Client or, in the absence thereof, the specifications in the assignment specification form, relevant commercial customs, usages or practices and such procedures as the Contractor deems appropriate on technical, business organisational and/or commercial grounds. The Contractor is under no obligation to indicate facts or values or to report on the latter if these lie outside the specific instructions issued by the Client.
- 3.11 The Client acknowledges that in providing his services the Contractor neither adopts the position of the Client or any third party nor releases the latter from any obligations or in any other way assumes, restricts or cancels Client obligations vis-à-vis third parties or of third parties vis-à-vis the Client or releases him therefrom in any other manner.
- 3.12 Following completion of the assignment and payment of the remuneration agreed the Contractor shall retain the Client’s test material in safekeeping at the Client’s risk and in observance of his own customary care. If the Client has not yet collected the documentation and samples three months after acceptance of the expert opinion the Contractor is released from any liability.

4. CLIENT OBLIGATIONS

- 4.1 The Client may not issue the Contractor any instruction which might falsify the latter’s actual findings or the results of his expert opinion.

- 4.3 A Client wishing to use the results of the expert opinion in the course of any test event is under the obligation to procure the test material on his own responsibility regarding selection of the test material and sending the test material to contractor.
- 4.4 If the Client intends to make any change(s) to the assigned subject hereunder or assign any other subject to Contractor, prior to the completion of the ongoing subject, such a change or new assignment shall only be effective if recorded in text form and expressly agreed by both parties in advance.

5. DUTY OF CONFIDENTIALITY

- 6.4 The Client is not permitted to amend, edit or use the expert opinion in merely extract form. Any disclosure of investigation reports or expert opinions to official authorities or other public offices is permissible if and to the extent that this is necessary or prescribed under statute in the light of the contractually assumed use or to the extent required by law.
- 6.5 The Contractor stores, processes and also uses personal data for the Client for correct order execution and for their own purposes. The Contractor uses data processing systems for this. The Contractor has taken technical-organisational measures to fulfil data protection requirements, which guarantee data security and data protection procedures. Employees responsible for processing are bound to comply with data protection laws and to adhere to all data protection regulations.
